What we love...

We love the private pool and its spacious lounge area.

Standing sentinel over the sparkling waters of Little Bay, the two astounding Àni Villas set side by side are the epitome of luxury. Ideal for both smaller and larger groups alike, the set uniquely offers the chance to book your stay on a 4, 6, 8 or 10 suite basis, whilst always benefitting from exclusive use of both villas and all their fantastic facilities in their entirety, yet only ever paying for the rooms you need.

Seemingly symmetrical from the exterior, the cubist villas offer four sumptuous suites in the north villa and six in the south villa. Grand master suites with relaxing jet tubs, fully retractable floor to ceiling windows and captivating ocean views offer an immediate sense of serenity, and spacious guests suites with twin beds are perfect for friends or children. Gleaming white interiors are punctuated with artistic driftwood furniture, creating invitingly cool dining and living areas to retreat to on a balmy day.

Top tip? The panoramic views from the headland are best embraced from the two clifftop hot tubs. Toast the sunset with a cocktail curated by your expert mixologist who will shake a sundowner to your taste, and as the candles flicker to life you can soak under the stars. Double trouble has no negative connotations here: larger groups will love the two infinity pools to choose from. Competing for the award of best seats in the house are the open-air lounge Turtle Point, the cliffside dining area and serene ceremony platform, perfect for simply celebrating family time together or perhaps an Anguillan ‘I do’.

The ethos of Àni is true, luxury all-inclusive and it doesn’t disappoint. Gourmet menus are created with your favourite flavours in mind, and cooking classes mean you can take a taste of your trip home with you. Fancy elevenses at any time of the day? No problem, staff are on hand with all-day snacks. Yearning to explore the island more? With a beach butler service included in your stay, simply let your dedicated team know you feel like venturing out for lunch with your toes in the sand and the team will take care of it. An idyllic set up including lounge chairs, umbrellas and beach games will await your arrival, and when you get peckish, your beach butler will fire up the BBQ lunch or a tiki torch lit dinner.
