

Chalet Almajur St. Anton, Austria

What we love...

Bags of authentic alpine character and the highest standards of comfort and service mark this out as a superior chalet.

Do you dream of old world alpine charm, but can't live without those up-to-the-minute refinements? If so, just take a look at this quaint stone cottage peeking out from the pine trees. Chalet Almajur, one of the oldest buildings in St. Anton, has been completely rebuilt and transformed into a sumptuous modern ski chalet complete with wifi and a separate TV room.

Sitting in a pretty cottage garden, its original twinkling charm lives on in the deep-setting of the stone windows and the uneven pales of the picket fence. Inside, the roof beams and fireplace create a cosy ambiance, whilst wooden floorboards and crisp white walls add contemporary chic.

How delightful to climb the steps to your charming house at the edge of the woods, imagining the days when an Austrian grandmother would have raised chickens here. And how delightful to open the door to an elegant contemporary home, with a welcoming hearth and a professional team of staff. Chalet Almajur is kept sparkling by the housekeeper and the concierge service ensures that your every request is met, whether it is a parascending experience, stocking up on a particular vintage wine, or booking a table at the best mountain restaurant for lunch.

Sit the kids down for an early supper, compliments of the chef, before settling them down in front of a movie whilst your gourmet dinner is expertly prepared in the kitchen. After dinner, pour yourself a drink from the complimentary drinks tray and spend half an hour watching a ski video in the purpose-built cinema room before retiring for bed.

Tucked up under the rafters in one of the five luxurious en-suite bedrooms, a feeling of peaceful calm descends. You need to be on top form for the complimentary ski guiding in the morning. Chalet Almajur is just a couple of minutes walk from the Nasserein ski lift and from the centre of St. Anton by car.

Eating

Wonderful aromas float out from the kitchen as your private chef gets to work. The catered option gives you five star food and drink from the moment you wake up. Revived by a hot cup of tea or coffee you are ready for a luxury continental breakfast.

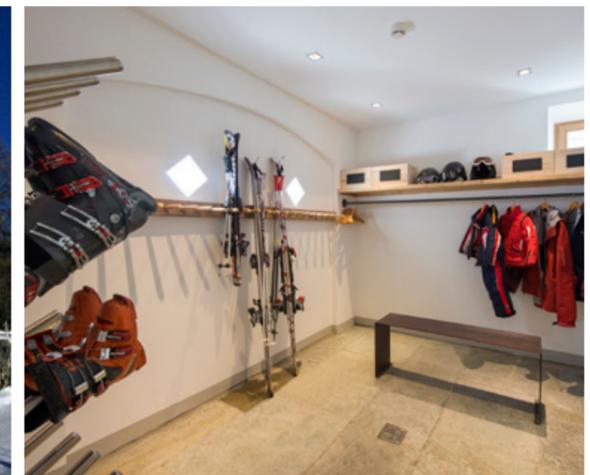

The evening repast begins with champagne and canapés, creating a buzz of anticipation as guests catch the whiff of the gourmet delights to come. Evening meals are something to look forward to at the end of a day in the mountains, and the standard here is very high.

Carefully selected house wines are included, along with a complimentary drinks tray of 2 bottles of house spirits, beer, mixers and soft drinks.

Children’s teas can be served separately, so little ones don’t get too tired and hungry, and that they can eat the foods they prefer.

Staff have two days off a week and your host will be delighted to make recommendations or bookings for local restaurants.

Alternatively, Chalet Almajur can be taken on a self-catered or B&B basis if you prefer the flexibility to follow your own schedule.

Chalet Almajur

Kids

Chalet Almajur is ideal for family groups, with separate living spaces and accommodation over three floors, giving you more than enough space for different activities. Perhaps there might be some quiet snoozing going on in the living room, and a movie night in the downstairs TV room.

Being so close to one of the main gondola lifts of St. Anton is a real benefit when it comes to getting the children on the slopes. If they need to be on the other side of town for lessons, there is always the shared in-resort driver service.

All the bedrooms can be configured as twin rooms, giving maximum flexibility no matter how many children you have in your party. Cots and high chairs are also available for smaller members and childcare can be arranged on request.
