

Severin's The Alpine Retreat Lech, Austria

What we love...

We love the state-of-the-art spa and wellness area, perfect for indulgent relaxation.

If you are looking for a chalet offering the epitome of luxury for your ski holiday, you won't find anything closer than the fabulous Severin's The Alpine Retreat.

The Alpine Retreat is a brand new super luxury ski chalet, offered either for exclusive use sleeping groups of 32 people or as a boutique hotel on a suite by suite basis.

Achingly stylish, the property has been dressed by international design guru Reinhard Strasser, who has given nods to traditional style with the reclaimed Tyrolean wood and typically Alpine copper roof, alongside a very contemporary look. The rooms are furnished by Italian studio, Minotti, ensuring every armchair has just the right 'aaaahhh' factor as you sink into it and every bed the perfect amount of 'bounce'. Contemporary artworks from all around the world are regularly changed, making the property a 'rolling' gallery.

There are nine stunning suites and a duplex residence to sleep up to eight people. Each has its own living space, so there is always somewhere peaceful to retreat to if you wish. The highest quality linens and furnishings, state-of-the-art technology and luxury en-suites make each suite a very special bolthole of its own to retreat to at the end of the evening.

After an adventure-packed day, the state-of-the-art spa and fitness area is a real treat. With an immense range of facilities including infinity swimming pool with currents and whirlpools, saunas, steam room, gym and treatment rooms where you can be pampered and preened, there's no finer way to spend the afternoon.

The Alpine Retreat has its own gourmet restaurant, headed by Stephan Kriegelstein, where the bespoke menu offers traditional Austrian cuisine with a modern twist. There's also a wonderful bar where you and your party can meet for apres or after dinner drinks and catch up on the day's events.

Staff are on hand 24 hours a day to ensure you are always well fed and watered and completely comfortable. Save all your energy for the slopes and don't lift a finger!

Severin's The Alpine Retreat

Rooms

The Alpine Retreat comprises nine suites and residence to sleep eight (spread over two floors). The suites are comprised of three categories; junior suites, family suites and senior suites.

The family suites have an additional bunk bed to sleep two children in the living area.

Each suite has separate living and sleeping areas, fireplace, spacious wardrobes, wet-room style bathrooms with bathtub, rain shower and vanities. The luxury Minotti beds are dressed with the finest Egyptian cotton bedding and there is a private terrace/balcony with spectacular mountain views.

Suites also include:

- Mini bar
- Loewe TV
- Revox sound system
- iPads to control everything from lighting to air-conditioning
- In suite humidifier system
- In suite safe
- Espresso machine and tea bar

The residence offers an additional 423sqm of living space. Spread over two floors, it sleeps 8 people, allowing a total of 32 guests and includes private facilities such as state of the art kitchen, dining room, home cinema, grand piano and private Whirlpool on the sun terrace.

Eating

Food and drink are an intrinsic part of the experience here. Guests of The Alpine Retreat are able to enjoy the private dining experience by head chef, Stephan Kriegelstein and his team.

Daily breakfast and dinner on six evenings are included in your stay and are served in the chalet's stylish restaurant. Offering traditional cuisine served in an innovative and sophisticated manor, there is a huge emphasis on using organic local produce and the latest culinary techniques.

Alternatively, guests may order meals to their suites if they prefer with the 24-hour room service. Service is key and the aim is to be entirely flexible depending on your requirements.

The Alpine inspired bar is open for apres ski, aperitifs and post-dinner drinks and the chalet also a temperature-controlled wine cellar where you can take part in tastings or hold private dinners or events.
