

Villa La Foux Provence, France

What we love...

We love the hillside location with the panoramic sea views from the terraces.

Understated elegance is what this luxury villa on the Cote d'Azur is all about. Set atop a green hillside and looking over olive groves to the sea beyond, you couldn't ask for a prettier outlook.

The villa is quiet and secluded, yet based within the grounds of a luxury spa hotel so you have access to wonderful facilities should you feel like some serious pampering.

Bold floral patterns and fresh colours bring the outdoors into the main living areas of the villa. French doors open back onto sun-drenched terraces, from where you can sit quietly and take in the sea air and earthy aroma of the olive groves.

Should you wish to cook, the kitchen is fitted with top-of-the-range gadgets that will make rustling up an al fresco supper a pleasure. Alternatively you could make use of the 24-hour rooms service or eat in either of the restaurants at the hotel, all within the same spacious grounds.

Both bedrooms have been renovated to the highest of standards and have luxury ensuite bathrooms, giving you a suite where you can really relax and perhaps enjoy a nap in the afternoon, listening to the rustle of the breeze in the olive trees and the sea far away in the distance.
