

Lodge des Nants Morzine, France

What we love...

We love the roof-top deck with its wonderful views and open-air hot tub.

If you want it all, then Lodge des Nants may be just the place for you. All the basics are taken care of.

There are seven luxury bedrooms, decked out with fine Egyptian cottons and spa-style bathrooms, and configured to suit whatever your party's needs. To make life easy at every turn, there's a well-appointed ski and boot room and the chalet itself is just moments from both the slopes and the town.

Wellbeing is top of the billing here, so after an energetic morning on Morzine's slopes you can relax and recharge in the hammam, log sauna and spa area. The indoor swimming pool is a stunning space in which to relax and the pool itself has a current to swim against.

Two living and entertainment levels offer everyone space to gather together in the evenings. On the fourth floor, an open-plan living and dining room are the ideal spot to relax while your chef prepares your evening meal and your hosts keep your glasses topped up. A cinema room adjacent provides a space for children to watch a movie while the adults catch up before dinner, or a cosy place to unwind after food with a film all together.

But it's the top floor of this luxury ski chalet that is the real jewel in this property's crown. Up on the roof, the hot tub has a view of the Morzine Valley and beyond to Avoriaz, or you can relax in the outdoor seating area with a drink. Just inside there's a bar and pool table, and a stunning central fireplace with seating gathered around it, practically perfect for a party.
