

Nidus Penthouse Lech, Austria

What we love...

We love the beautifully chic and sophisticated style of this luxury penthouse apartment.

You get a real 'on top of the world' feeling from this exclusive ski penthouse, which is perched at the top of the prestigious Nidus building.

The double-height living space with large French windows look out over the mountains and village below. Wrap up warm and head out onto the south-facing balcony with your morning coffee to make the most of that mountain air and fabulous view, or simply enjoy it from the warmer vantage point of a comfy seat by the roaring fire in the evenings.

Some of the country's leading interiors gurus were drafted in to design the Nidus Penthouse – and it shows. Every aspect of the wonderful living space at this luxury ski chalet has been carefully considered to keep it light and airy in the daytimes, with its huge glass windows and natural materials, yet incredibly cosy and intimate in the evenings, when clever lighting, a roaring fire and oversized squashy sofas combine to make this one of the best spots in Lech to relax in after a day out on the slopes.

Each of the five bedrooms is an ode to comfort, with luxury linens, robes, hairdryers and anything else you could need to make your own little home from home on your luxury ski holiday here in the mountains. The master bedroom even has its own private sauna.

When you wish to head out from your luxury ski chalet (and, trust us, it will be a wrench) you'll find the village centre and the nearest lifts are just a few minutes drive or just under a ten minute walk. There's plenty to enjoy in Lech but returning to your luxury ski chalet afterwards where you can kick off your ski boots and leave them warming for the morning, then head upstairs to your penthouse where staff will be waiting with warming drinks, turned down beds and something delicious in the oven is always a treat.
