

Chalet Yeti Val d'Isere

What we love...

We love the charming indoor pool, the arched windows and the authentic wood panelled walls in the ground floor wellness oasis.

The charming, self-catered Chalet Yeti exudes elegance yet manages to feel incredibly homely at the same time, the perfect winter retreat.

Split across four floors, the entire property showcases a charming blend of classic Alpine architecture and features, tastefully combined with contemporary furnishings. The huge wrap-around terrace accessible from the living area offers magnificent views and is surrounded by tall pine trees, giving the feel of a truly secluded location. When covered in snow, it's truly magical. With multiple balconies to choose from, there are no limits to how the panoramic views can be enjoyed.

The chalet's living space is bright and spacious with double-height ceilings and large windows – creating a deep connection with the outside world. The centrepiece of the room is the beautiful, open fireplace – creating the perfect ambience for cosy nights together or putting your feet up with your favourite book. In an open planned setting, the dining area seats up to 8 guests, right next to the semi-open kitchen. This allows adults to enjoy a sophisticated meal whilst the little ones curl up in front of their favourite movie.

Sleeping up to 10 guests, the five bedrooms and five bathrooms are poised for ultimate relaxation and privacy. The elegant master suite even has its own fireplace, TV and spa bath with a gorgeous view of the mountains. On the second floor you've got three of the bedrooms and on the ground floor the fifth bedroom and a private laundry room and ski room.

After a hard day on the slopes, slip on your complimentary bathrobe and slippers then head down to the ground floor, home to your own private spa oasis where you can alternate between your private indoor pool and Hammam. This is a haven for relaxation.

Chalet Yeti was built for long, slow evenings in front of the wood burning fireplace with your favourite tittle acquired from your private bar. Trade stories with your loved ones of your favourite moment of the day, and spent hours planning your route for tomorrow, excitement building.
